Barbara, a medical resident, lost her husband when his plane was shot down by enemy fire in Afghanistan. She wonders if she will ever love again, feel warm again. She freezes out Chris, a fellow resident at the hospital who also has a difficult past. But Chris isn't easily deterred. As a second loss tears at Barbara's heart, will Chris be the one to break down the barrier? I think we're all fascinated by the people who don't quite fit in to the normal cone of expected human behavior. These are the people who were outcasts in high school, and who maybe were in college, too. They might have had a friend or two, but they struggled to say the right thing, and it showed. They were socially awkward. They were the geek girls. Maybe you wondered, What goes on inside their heads? In Entanglement, with Greta, I get to show you. Q. It seems as if it falls into several genres. How would you categorize it? A. Entanglement is a plot-driven story that begins with a crime that you must unravel as you read-like a mystery-yet it focuses on the close relationship between two women-which means it's a love story. The main character, Greta, for all that she is a misfit, is very funny. Part of her humor stems from her intelligence, and part of it stems from her unique way of seeing...
