Do you think the Department should be lead-ing efforts to export jobs, for the elimination of American jobs spe-cifically, for sending jobs to, let us say, China Secretary E. I think we ought to lead for creating jobs in VANS America. I want everybody - - OLLINGS Senator H. You and I agree on that, and that is why I was wondering about reading articles on Under Secretary Juster or Juster - how do you pronounce that Secretary E. Juster. VANS OLLINGS Senator H. Juster. He has these innovation forums at the Ronald Reagan Building and last year with the United States-India Business Council and otherwise coming right on down all year long to December. I refer specifically to an article in the New York Times, December 10, and let me read just a couple of lines. After the opening speeches, the 50 or so American executives gathered at the Hotel Pennsylvania in Manhattan were invited to divide up. Those interested in in-vesting in China, putting an operation there and hiring Chinese workers were to go across the hall to the Penntop North Conference Room. Those who wanted help in exporting to China were to stay seated in Penntop South. Half or more went across the hall. It was stated that across the hall, most of the speakers were Chi-nese promoting what Shen Ligu, Vice Governor of Heilongjiang Province in Northeastern China, described as, quote,...
